

SEPTEMBER 27, 2022

7 am to 8:30 am BREAKFAST

8:30 am OPENING REMARKS

8:45 am – 9:45 PLENARY: Teara Fraser The Sacred Path of Disruption: Indigenous Worldview as the Pathway Home

As the first Indigenous woman to establish her own airline, Iskwew Air, Fraser is carving her own path through what has historically been a male-dominated industry. Named one of Canada’s Top 25 Most Influential Women and featured on the MacLean’s 2021 Power List and chosen as one of 18 “real-world heroes” for DC’s Comics Graphic Novel Wonderful Women of History, Teara will discuss the crucial importance of Indigenous worldview as the path to necessary disruption of systems, laying a foundation for communities to grow, one idea at a time.

9:45 am NETWORK BREAK

10:00 am CONCURRENT SESSIONS

INCLUSIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	INCLUSIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
Growing the Ecosystem with Community-Based Enterprise By embracing community-based enterprise, we can realize the potential within marginalized communities, reduce barriers, and create stronger, more welcoming communities. Presenters: Build Up Saskatoon + Pirate Signs	Is Your Community Investment Ready? Join panelists Gavin Conacher, World Trade Centre; Katlin Ducherer, City of Lloydminster; and Charly Ondako, CanExport Community Investments Program as they bring the perspectives of an investor, an investment-ready municipality, and a Government of Canada program designed to help communities and nations attract investment.	Tourism: Bridging Traditions & Technology Bridging traditions and technology is now essential to market and delivers authentic tourism experiences. In this session, Canadian Ecotourism Services(CES) will share best practices in applying innovation and sustainable community development in remote and urban communities across Canada. Session will be repeated Sept 28

11:00 am CONCURRENT SESSIONS

GAME CHANGERS	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM
VR and AR: bringing skills development to your doorstep. Dwayne Melcher and his team at Melcher Studios will illustrate initiatives under development to deliver training remotely using virtual and augmented reality technologies – as well as other digital impacts in the classroom.	Making Great Decisions We are making decisions every hour, every day. Short-term and long-term, we make decisions consciously and unconsciously, impacting every aspect of our life. David Smith of Logia Consulting will show you how to go beyond making good decisions and start making great decisions.	Fostering Future Entrepreneurs With more than a quarter of Saskatchewan’s population under 20 years old, what does the future of entrepreneurship look like in our province? Hear from a panel of young entrepreneurs to find out what they’re doing and how communities can support up-and-coming businesses.

12:00 PM LUNCHEON and Community Futures Saskatchewan Award Presentations

1:00 pm What New Seeds Are We Sowing: The Future of Agriculture

Agriculture in Saskatchewan is no stranger to innovation; find out what’s on the horizon for the Land of the Living Skies with a panel exploring the agricultural opportunities for local and regional growth.

2:00 pm CONCURRENT SESSIONS

COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM
Entrepreneurship: Enhancing Your Attraction Quotient Discover how rural businesses are turning themselves into Consumer Destinations. A panel of four businesses will share how applying concepts from the Destination Creation Program are making a difference in their businesses.	Supply Chains: Regional is Resilient Global leader BHP is well known for its commitment to developing regional supply chains. Discover their best practices and how to build sustainable local and regional industry linkages in the communities you serve. Presenter BHP	The Most Important Element of Your Community Website During this fast moving and engaging session, you will learn how your website can help your location stand out from the crowd and get the attention of businesses, location advisors and potential residents. The session will explain why your website needs to promote you community’s WHY and how to keep people engaged on your website longer. Presenter: David Parsell, CEO of Localintel Economic Development.

3:00 pm NETWORK BREAK

3:15 pm CONCURRENT SESSIONS

COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	GAME CHANGERS	INCLUSIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
The Mindshift: Rethinking Our Approach to Economic Recovery Developmental lenders played a critical role in supporting Saskatchewan business owners throughout the pandemic. Moving forward, as we come to accept the fact that COVID didn’t cause the financial vulnerability felt by thousands of small business owners, it exposed it, now may be the time to rethink our road to recovery. Join former lender, financial strategist and behaviouralist, Taunya Woods Richardson, as she takes us through an extraordinary thought process, using a First Principles approach to entrepreneurship and economic recover	Community Transformation Begins Here Find out how three Saskatchewan communities took the DIY approach to close the digital divide and ensure residents and businesses have the broadband service they need in 2022 and beyond. Presenters: Tina Rasmussen, MLTC; Mayor David Mark, Nokomis, Chris Enns, My Mutual/Town of Waldheim	Future of Communities: A Roundtable with BHP Furthering the understanding, development and sustainable use of resources to support communities to be more adaptive and resilient and enable them to address the challenges of the future.

5:30 pm NETWORKING SOCIAL (cash bar) with appetizers 5:30 pm to 7:30 pm

7:30 pm BANNOCK & BONFIRE. Must be pre-registered – limited seats.

September 28, 2022

7 am to 8:30 am BREAKFAST

8:30 am PLENARY The Future of Work: The great resignation to the great reimagination Steven Harrington; Deloitte

To overcome the Great Resignation, we need to rethink, reshuffle, refocus, and reset to achieve the Great Reimagination. Organizations have an opportunity to become more human-centric, agile, resilient, and sustainable. While the forces may be similar, the impact on people, their purpose, the work they do, and how they do it will be very different across sectors, businesses, and roles. It's time for leaders to shift their thinking on talent and the nature of work itself.

9:30 am NETWORK BREAK

9:45 CONCURRENT SESSIONS

GAME CHANGERS	GAME CHANGERS	INCLUSIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
Driving CED with Distributed Energy Systems This session will discuss the $11 billion in funding programs supporting municipalities, nations and businesses with clean energy initiatives. Presenter: DEA CEO	The future of Rural & Remote Communities is aerial From transporting people and supplies to intervening in medical emergencies, unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs) can get you new places and solve old problems. Draganfly CEO Cameron Chell will discuss current and future applications of drone technology for rural and remote communities	Tourism: Bridging Traditions & Technology Bridging traditions and technology is now essential to market and delivers authentic tourism experiences. In this session, Canadian Ecotourism Services(CES) will share best practices in applying innovation and sustainable community development in remote and urban communities across Canada. Repeat of session

10:45 am CONCURRENT SESSIONS

COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM
Your new Superpower: Community-Based Investment Join Co-operatives First and a panel of community leaders in discussing local investment initiatives that are percolating across the prairies.	Stories From the Field: Tourism Clusters in Saskatchewan We all know our communities have much to offer—not just in resources and business prospects, but also in exciting experiences for tourists. Combining the concepts of business clusters with tourism opportunities can help build capacity and attract tourists for your community. Darcy Acton from Tourism Saskatchewan will share success stories from the province to help you see the possibilities close to home	The Most Important Element of Your Community Website During this fast moving and engaging session, you will learn how your website can help your location stand out from the crowd and get the attention of businesses, location advisors and potential residents. The session will explain why your website needs to promote you community's WHY and how to keep people engaged on your website longer. Presenter: David Parsell, CEO of Localintel Economic Development. Repeat of session

11:45 am LUNCHEON and SEDA Award Presentations

12:30 PM PLENARY Crafting the Future You Desire with Jesse Hirsch (remote)

Historically, great crises and catastrophes are followed by renaissances and periods of incredible innovation. During the past several years, some organizations and communities have responded to disruption with incredible resilience, resulting in unprecedented growth and success. Beamed to Saskatchewan from his rural Ontario farm, Jesse will cover important questions about our response to disruption: What is the difference between success and failure, between frustration and excitement? What are the steps communities and businesses should be taking now to leverage this transitional period and ensure a prosperous and sustainable future?

1:15 TO 3:30 pm MASTER CLASSES

Refreshments available

INCLUSIVE ECDEV	COMMUNITY & ENTREPRENEURIAL ECOSYSTEM
Decolonization 101 This session is based on the award-winning workshop developed by Ta7taliya Michelle Nahanee. Featuring a giant board game, "Sinulhkay and Ladders", participants will explore the Action we can take; Words we can say and Ideas we can unlearn to reverse colonial impacts. Ta7taliya Michelle Nahanee, Skwxwú7mesh, is a decolonial creative & strategist catalyzing social change to transform colonial narratives & impacts.	Building a Proposal for your food sovereignty project Imports of fruits, vegetables and nuts that contribute to Canada's food security will initially become more expensive, then more scarce, a prospect that warrants our attention. The Growcer helps communities take control of their food system. This interactive session will help attendees develop a proposal their year-round food growing projects. He will share successes, barriers and learnings from across Canada and highlight the steps in planning a community food project and sustainable year round grow container solutions.